

1. When I refresh the page, the content is not autosaved and the content is lost. Need autosave functionality in the draft page.
2. The image shows as uploaded but its failing. Because of the error, the content is not getting published.

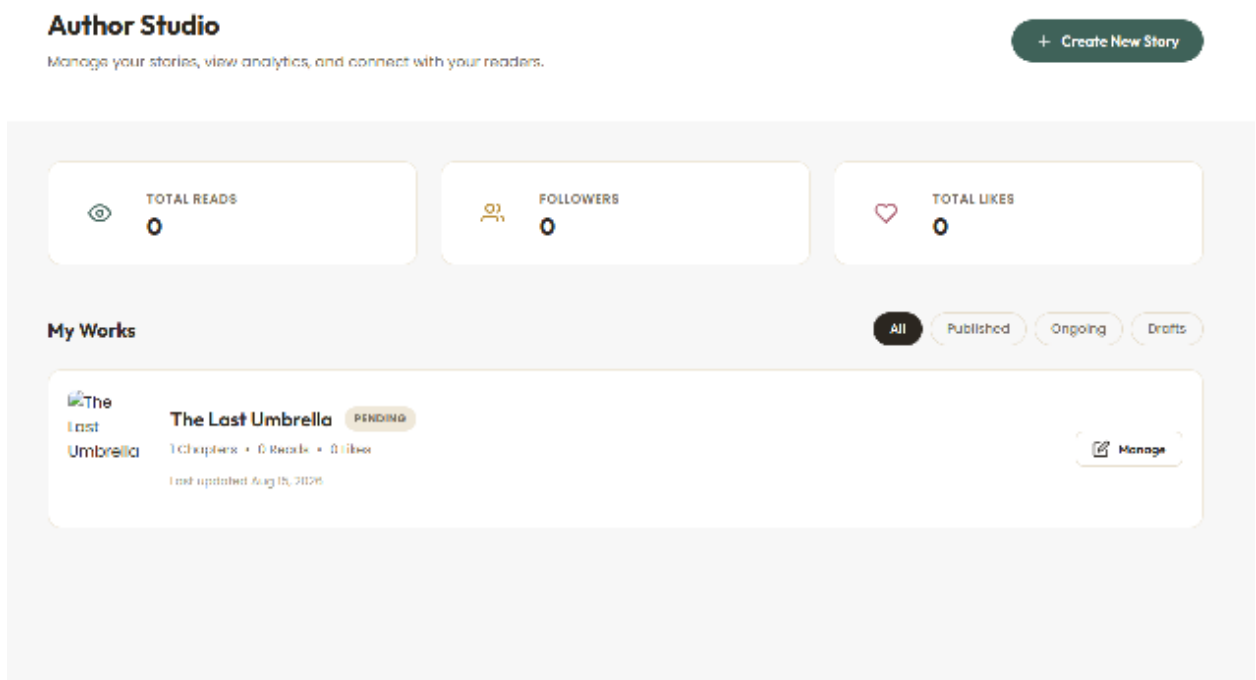

3. When I loaded the content without image and saved, it came in the drafts. But when it fails for image uplod, the content is lost.

The content shows it is saved.

But it is not available in the studio

4. What does this option mean? Inherit from Book

Chapter Title

Chapter Access:

Inherit from Book

Inherit from Book

Free for Everyone

Premium (Subscribers Only)

Write your chapter

5. Why is there no save button in the next chapter. If I am half done in the chapter, I should have an option to edit and finish the chapter. So this page needs edit, save and then publish button

←

WRITING A NEW CHAPTER FOR
The Red Door

Publish Chapter

Episode 2

Chapter Access: Inherit from Book

Behind a mirror was the same red door.

Suddenly, the mirror reflected something strange.

The little girl appeared behind Arun.

He turned.

Nobody was there.

His grandmother's old diary lay open on the chair. The first page contained a single sentence:

"She remembers everything."

Arun flipped through the pages and discovered the truth.

The girl was his younger sister, Anu.

6. I wrote my content in the below format with space and paragraphs.

Episode 2

Chapter Access:

Nobody was there.

His grandmother's old diary lay open on the chair. The first page contained a single sentence:

"She remembers everything."

Arun flipped through the pages and discovered the truth.

The girl was his younger sister, Anu.

Everyone had told him he was an only child because Anu had disappeared twenty years ago.

Then Arun heard a whisper from behind the door.

"Brother..."

But the story is displayed like this in one single paragraph. Also, even if I click on second episode, it is displaying the first episode only. If I click on Next button, it is not going to the next chapter.

Arun returned to his grandmother's village after twenty years. While cleaning her abandoned house, he discovered a tiny brass key hidden inside an old clock. Attached was a note: "Never open the red door after sunset." Arun smiled at the strange warning. There was only one red door in the house, leading to a room he had never seen before. Curiosity won. That evening, just before sunset, he inserted the key. The door opened slowly. Inside stood an old wooden chair, a dusty mirror, and a photograph of Arun as a child. But Arun had never visited this village as a child—or so he believed.

< Prev

A

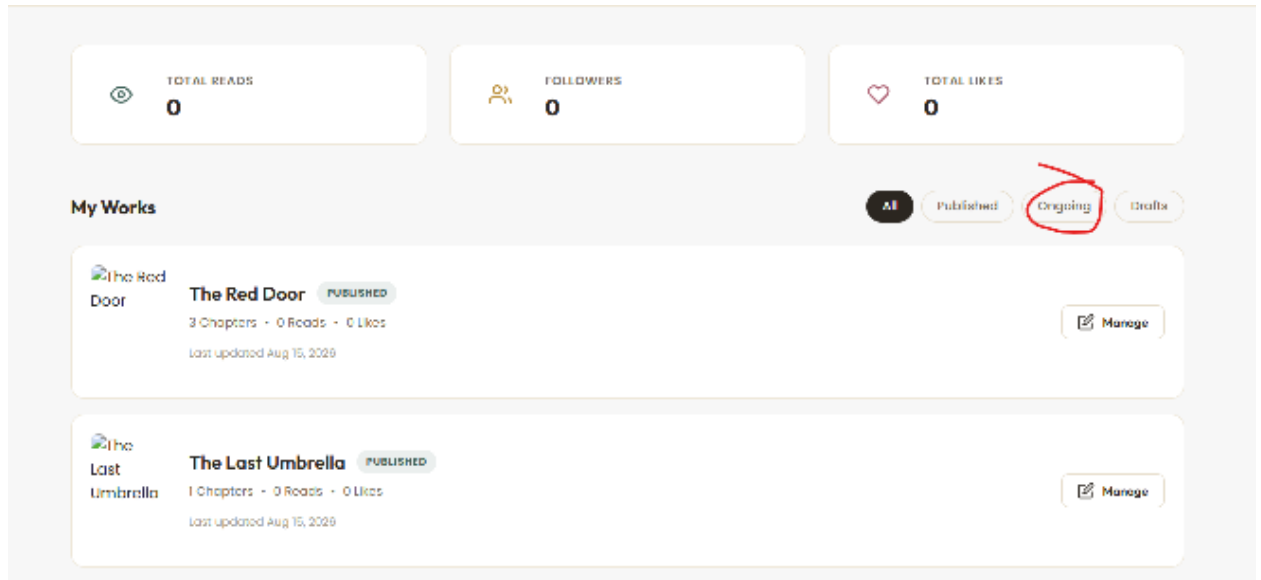

18px

A

Next >

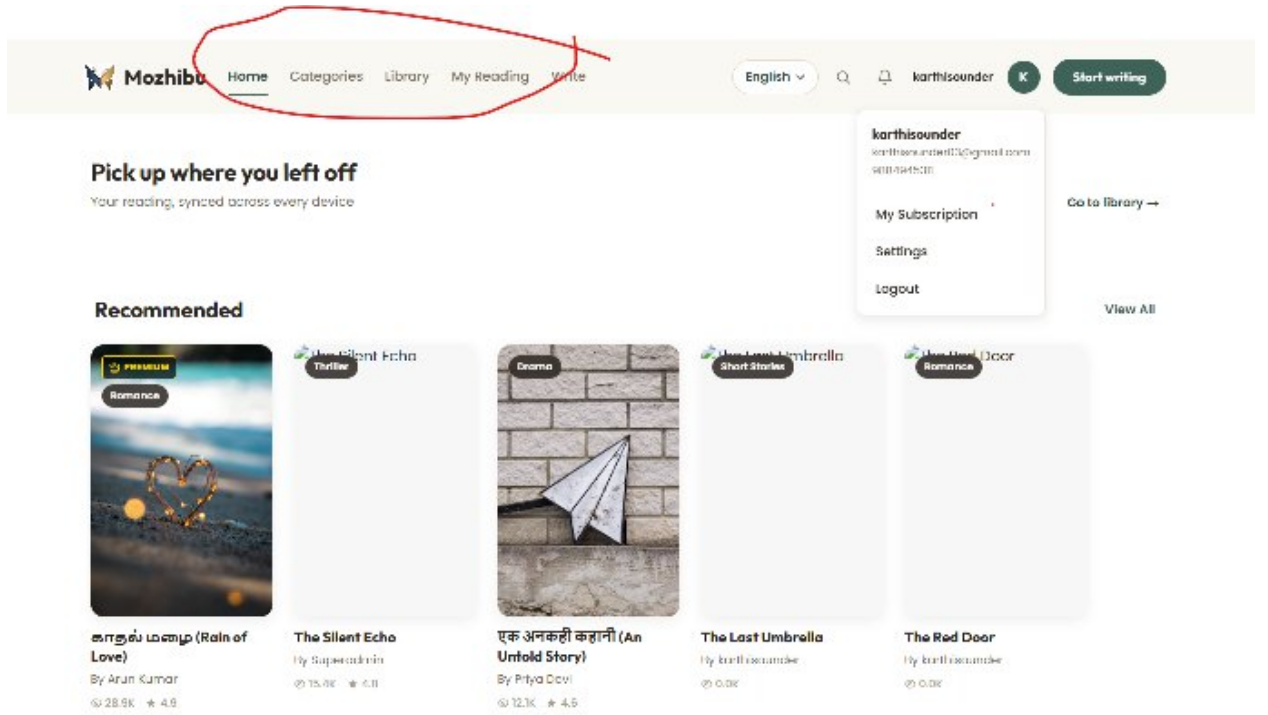

7. What is the purpose of this button?

8. We need to add profile details to the user page. The user's published contents are not available directly unless we use search. We need a profile page to show the author's contents, library, reading history, followers and following list.

We should have four categories only :

- a. Home – To display website's stories, recommendations, announcements
- b. Categories- To display the categories available
- c. Profile – the profile information carrying description about the profile, reading history shown in library, published contents , followers, following
- d. Write – this is the actual author studio directing to drafts and edits.

Example:

